Joint Software and Data Carpentry Partnerships
Approved by the Data Carpentry Steering Committee, 2016 April 1

Software and Data Carpentry offer partnerships to organizations to help them meet their training needs. Such partnerships will generally aim to deliver workshops at partner organizations; to train local instructors; to build their local capacity to run workshops; and to develop a community of practice around effective and reproducible research.

We offer several levels of Partnerships, based on training activities expected annually

* For Coordinated workshops, we will find instructors for the workshop, set up and handle registration, support instructor logistics and coordinate and share assessment results with the Partner organization. A designated contact approves coordinated workshop requests for that organization. Instructor travel expenses are not covered in Partnership fees.

 For Self-organized workshops the organization is responsible for finding local instructors and handling the logistics of the workshop coordination, including registration and registering the workshop with Software and Data Carpentry. As long at least one instructor is certified and the Software or Data Carpentry content is taught, it can be labeled a Carpentry workshop.

 Any instructor training includes the instructor mentorship and support of the instructors through the instructor development program.

^ in-person instructor trainings require an available trainer and travel funds to support instructor trainer(s) travel.
